GOLF CAMPAIGN FOR NEW COURSE FUND CONTINUES

Burke, '25, Chairman of Golf Committee, Explains that Raising of Fund is to Show Alumni that Students Favor Project

WORK ON COURSE GOES AHEAD

Several Improvements Made Around College During Vacation Period

James B. Burke, '25, chairman of the Golf Committee, has announced that the campaign to raise a student fund for the addition to the golf course will be continued this fall. He feels that the many men in college who did not contribute last spring because of financial embarrassment at that time should be given another chance and that the members of the class of '28 should also be given their opportunity.

The idea of the student fund is not so much to raise a large amount, he explained, as to point out to the alumni that the student body is solidly behind them in this project. Most students at Hamilton are unaware, he added, that the college course here is the only one of its kind in the country for which a student membership fee is not charged. A dollar and a half per man has been suggested as a fair contribution.

The matter of discourtesy on the golf course has been brought to the attention of several members of the golf committee. It is said that lately, especially some of the freshmen have not waited until the man ahead had taken his stroke, but played directly up behind him. The matter is being investigated by the committee.

Work Progressing

Work on the four hole addition to the golf course is progresing. It recently has been supervised by the committee of buildings and grounds. Practically all the work that can be done this fall has already been completed. The fairways have been laid out, the greens leveled, water pipes installed to each of the greens, and all the grounds seeded. It will take just about a year for the grass to grow in, making it probable that the addition can be played over next fall at the opening of college. The work has been greatly facilitated by the voluntary advice and supervision of Sherrill Sherman, '04, who has had considerable experience in the laying out of golf courses.

Other Improvements

Several general improvements have also been made about the college during the past summer. The cornice and steeple of the chapel were repaired and painted and the work on the eaves was completed. Exterior painting was also done on several of the college buildings. The old North house on the other side of the glen was converted into a two family house for some of the college employees. North Dormitory was repaired and improved to quite an extent. The walls in a good many of the rooms were papered, and more are to be papered during the coming year. New floors were laid in some of the rooms.

GOOD SEASON IS FORECAST FOR CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Number of Freshmen Show Promise in Addition to Nearly All of Last Year's Veterans

Present signs indicate a successful season for the Buff and Blue cross-country team this year. Coach Gelas has had a squad of 40 men under his direction since the opening of college. A number of the freshmen show promise of developing into excellent harriers and will possibly make some of the veterans hustle to retain their berths on the team. Practically all of last year's team is running again this season, Richards being the only one missing besides those lost by graduation. The men who were leaders last year are running well again this season, but as yet the squad has had no opportunity to show its mettle. Next Saturday, Oct. 4th, the squad will divide into two teams to run against each other between the halves of the Haverford football game. This race will give Coach Gelas the information he will need to pick the runners in the first intercollegiate meet the following Saturday with Colgate at Hamilton.

Freshmen desiring to enter competition for the Life staff must have a satisfactory grade in English Composition. A list of all men eligible will be posted shortly in the chapel.

COACHES PLAN HARD WORK FOR GRIDMEN

Buff and Blue Meets Haverford Here Saturday—Visitors Are Far from Perfect is Report

Plenty of hard work is in store for Coach Carroll's charges during the remainder of the week, according to present plans. The usual first-game defects which cropped up in the Williams game will have to be ironed out during the next few days of practice, and the coaches also plan to continue pounding on the fundamentals of the game.

Although some of the tackling was ragged, the team looked better defensively last Saturday than it has for some time. Especially gratifying when one remembers the Stevens and Union games of last year, is the defense which Carroll seems to have perfected for breaking up the forward pass. Pass after pass was attempted by the Williams back but only a few were successful. The line, although outweighed eight or ten pounds to the man, also made a nice defensive showing.

Offense is Weak

It is offensively, however, that the Buff and Blue gridders must show a vast improvement if the Haverford line is to be pierced with any regularity this Saturday. The attack was woefully weak in the curtain-raiser last week. Not a single first down was registered during the entire game by Hamilton except those brought about by penalties. So it is the offense, the pass, end run, and bucks, that the coaching staff will work the hardest on during the remaining practice sessions before the game.

The Haverford team, according to reports of the Columbia game, is far from a finished product. Although Haughton apparently had his team under wraps, Columbia won as it pleased, the final score being 29 to 3. Middleton, a hard plunging fullback, and Billo, a triple threat man, were the most consistent ground-gainers for Haverford. Both of these men will bear watching next Saturday. Nock, who scored all of Haverford's points by a drop kick from the 20-yard line, enjoys quite a reputation for his ability to score points from the field.

Haverford is a team which does not stop fighting until the final whistle is blown. This year's score against Columbia came shortly before the end of the game, and last year in the game with Washington College, which Haverford won 13 to 7, the two touchdowns were made in the final second of each half.

FIRST TENNIS MATCHES TO BE PLAYED THIS WEEK

Thirty-four Men Have Registered for Annual Fall Tournament

First matches of the annual fall tennis tournament will be played this week. Herbert D. Rathbun, '26, manager of intramurals, has requested that the following rules be observed: First matches must be played this week, in order to finish the tournament before cold weather; scores must be posted immediately; underclassmen must take the initiative in getting in touch with upperclassmen whom they are scheduled to play.

Thirty-four men have registered for the tournament. Among them are Kelly, Chase, McGregor, and Davenport of last year's team. A. R. Thompson, Whitbeck, Bingham, and Paine, who have figured in past tourneys, are likely to get beyond the first brackets. Ballard, Fitzgerald and Warner of the freshman class, have been playing good tennis.

GEOLOGY TRIP TO THE ADIRONDACKS

Members of the 7-8 class in physiography on Thursday and Friday will make a day and a half trip into the Fulton Chain of lakes district in the Adirondacks. They will climb Black Bear Mountain near Seventh Lake.

FROSH CONTRIBUTE TO "WAITERS BALL;" BUY NO RADIATORS OR CHAPEL SEATS

However, They Trim the Rusties in the Rows Despite Their "Classy-cut" Clothes and Blase Attitude—Old Timers Bewail Slimers' Ignorance of Horsing.

"Where, oh where, are the pea-green freshmen?" Have the freshmen undergone a kind of evolution from those sweat-shirt clad yearlings, ready to row every morning after chapel if the sophomores would give battle, to the present individuals now parading our walks, unmolested, in their classy-cut college clothes? While they do undergo the hardships of wearing green caps and keeping off the grass, what have they to fear of daily rows and what do they know about the custom of horsing and the tortures that went with it? What a blase class "they" are, too! To date, no radiators have been reported sold nor has any freshman purchased a chapel seat. Although no contributions for flowers for the janitors have been made, several dollars were collected in Commons the other evening for the Waiters' Ball.

Frosh Top Sophs in Rows

The freshmen were formally introduced to the sophomores on Thursday morning, Sept. 18, when, in the annual underclass row, the sophs, outnumbered by the largest class to enter Hamilton College, put up a good fight and declared themselves victors. The slimers, identifying each other by blotches of red ink which they had rubbed on their faces before their rush down the steps, had little difficulty in distinguishing the rusties from their own classmates. In addition to the upperclassmen, the row was witnessed by many visitors from Clinton and vicinity and by several members of the faculty. Some of the parents of the freshmen were also among the spectators. The wrestling matches did not help to decide which class could claim the victory, both scoring the same number of downs. In the 130 pound class Donohue, '27, and Pearson, '27, wrestled to a draw, and Wiggins, '27, and Lee, '28, failed to throw each other. Savercool, '27, in the 150 pound class was downed by Donnelly, '28. The latter, entering the heavyweight class, was put on his back by Blodgett, '27. The grass races resulted as follows: Roberts, '28, defeated Stong, '27; Doane, '27, won from Morton, '28; Wiley, '27, beat Barlow, '28; Church, '28, outran Mulligan, '27; and Bald, '28, defeated McKernan, '27. The freshman relay team, composed of Hiler, Jacobsen, Bower, and Brasted, outran the rusties, represented by Smith, Picard, Wakerly and LeFever. The tug of war resulted in a decisive victory for the freshmen when the entire sophomore class was dragged through, or around, the fountain. Efforts on the part of the slimers to form a pee-rade were frustrated by the sophs and, in response to cries of "Off the grass, slime," the freshmen took to the walks.

Two Receptions Held

Following this reception by the sophomores, the next two events for the first year men were of a little different nature. The dean's reception was held on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21, when Dr. Saunders entertained the freshmen at his home. The Y. M. C. A. reception was given in Commons last Wednesday evening. The president of the association, Phil Scott, after extending a welcome to the new men, introduced Dr. Fitch, who spoke on behalf of the college church and urged the freshmen to join. President Ferry, as the second speaker, stressed the importance of the academic side of college, quoting statistics to show the value of study, and asked the freshmen to do their best, not only to avoid being dropped from college, but for the happiness to be derived from doing college work well. Dr. Chase, speaking on college activities, urged the new men to come out for undergraduate organizations. Coach Carroll and Captain Towne said a few words for football, calling for a support of the team. John Gregory spoke in regard to the college publications, outlining the importance of each, and Bill Freeman, speaking for the hockey department, explained the one year rule and urged the freshmen to come out for the freshman team. Following a wrestling match between Donohue, '27, and Pearson, '28, in which Donohue threw his rival, and two rounds of boxing, resulting in a draw between Donohue for the sophomores and Warner for the freshmen, refreshments were served. The singing of "Carissima" closed the evening's festivities.

FRESHMAN HANDBOOK APPEARS IN GOOD STYLE

Many Alumni are Reported to Have Made Inquiries Concerning "Frosh Bible"

Along with those things which mark the entrance of a new class on the Hill there appears the "Freshman Bible", otherwise the "Hamilton Handbook", edited by Alexander Soper, III, '25. Other staff members include Harding, Gregory, Hays, Perry, and Wood of the class of 1925. This year's handbook differs from last year's in that the calendar for the year 1924-25 has been changed. The list of chapel preachers, too, has been changed. This year's handbook also contains an account of the two new local fraternities which were formed on the Hill last year. The list of men connected with the various undergraduate organizations, of course, changes from year to year. So the fact remains that the general run of information may not vary to a large extent, yet the information it contains is right up to the minute.

The foreword expreses the policy of the little book best: "The appearance of the Handbook for its second year in a larger and more permanent form seems to insure the adoption by the Publication Board of such a policy for the future. It is felt that the book will prove its value as a handy manual of information about the College—a pocket encyclopedia which should be both interesting and useful not only to the entering freshman, but to members of the other classes as well."

The truth of the matter is that the book has proved itself to be of such value that many alumni have made inquiries as to how it may be procured. Any alumnus who is interested in procuring one may do so by communicating with the business manager, Richard Steel, Lambda Chi Alpha House, Clinton.

The book this year was unusually well printed in Clinton by the Courier Press, Inc., printers of Hamilton Life and of the 1926 Hamiltonian.

PEP MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

CHARLATANS MAY PRESENT TRAGEDY, "OUTWARD BOUND"

President Snyder Waits for Word from Alec Woolcott, '09, for Permission to Use Play

The play which the Charlatans are planning to begin work on soon is a three-act tragedy, "Outward Bound," by S. Vane. Glenn Synder, president of the Charlatans, is awaiting word from Alexander Woollcott, '09, for permission to use the play. It is practically certain that the necessary consent will be granted, in as much as at commencement time Mr. Woollcott offered to obtain the play for the Charlatans. Tryouts for the cast will probably be held about a week from Monday.

"Outward Bound," which ran all last season in New York, is claimed to be one of the most unusual as well as one of the most successful plays to have been acted on the New York stage. It has a weird atmosphere, as the setting is laid after death. The play is unusual as there are no star parts, all the characters being of nearly equal importance.

President Snyder stated that work will be begun soon on several one-act plays which will be presented before the college body.

SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS

The senior class was partially organized during the past week. On Monday morning the nominations for president were made and included John R. Hatch, John F. Kaiser, A. Russell Thompson , and James B. Burke, who declined. In the final vote A. Russell Thompson was elected. The nominations for vice president were made on Wednesday morning. Those nominated were Cameron Croasdaile, James I. Farrell, George Kittell and Wilfred L. Packer. As a result of the final vote Packer was elected. John Toaz was unanimously re-elected secretary-treasurer.

PARTY FEELING FAILS TO STIR G. O. P. CLUB

Local Organization Plans, however, to Meet Sometime This Week

Despite the constantly increasing tensity of party feeling as each day passes, the Republican Club of Hamilton College, organized last spring, has as yet formed no plans for the coming year. It will be remembered that the club was organized by an executive committee composed of representatives from each of the fraternities and the neutral body. A membership drive was begun on March 24 and before the end of the college year approximately 65 per cent of the undergraduate body affiliated themselves with the new organization. The club received official recognition from the national committee and congratulatory messages were received from alumni interested in the advancement of the plan on the Hill. Several members of the executive council of the club, including Willard M. Pottle, '24, the chairman, were lost through graduation. However, of this council, Davies, '25, Towne, '25, Braunton, '25, C. Thomas, '25, Harding, '25, Walbridge, '26, and D. S. Payne, '26, remain to supervise the activities of the club during the coming year. They are planning to meet sometime this week to elect a new chairman and get under way. It is also expected that Republican buttons will arrive this week. They will be distributed to members of the club.

The purposes of the club are manifold. It serves to band together the Republicans of the college. It will give them a chance to hear Republican leaders tell about the aims and policies of their party. Among the speakers likely to come to Hamilton are U. S. Senator Wadsworth of New York and Lewis A. Coolidge, national committeeman from Massachusetts.

This year 250,000 students, representing 500 universities in the United States, are being enrolled in college Republican Clubs and approximately 150,000 of these young men and women will vote for President Coolidge in November. The present organization is known as The Associated University Republican Clubs.

FALL PARTY DATE IS SET ONLY AFTER HOT CONFAB

Interfraternity Council by Eight to Three Vote Decides on Oct.31-Nov. 1

Again the festive season is at hand. Again are men seeking diligently for house party girls. Returns to date are incomplete. The festive weekend is to be the 31st of October and the 1st of November. It is long since Hamilton has had a Hallowe'en dance. With the trees turned yellow, with the paths red and the grass green, with nuts and apples tumbling from the trees, the party will be Hallow'eenish indeed. Its advent will be interesting.

The college will be quite well dressed for the ladies. Chapel is being all fixed up, and the spire has been painted and gilded; the paths are new and the campus is in fine condition. Nothing more could be desired. One of the biggest football games of the year will be played—the scrap with C. C. N. Y. The only mar to the occasion will be the soccer team's absence. It plays Williams on Saturday, Nov. 1st, and will not be back before the following Sunday noon.

At a stormy session of the interfraternity council last Monday morning, a vote of eight to three decided that the date should be the one mentioned above. There had been previous discussion of the 11th of October as a possible date for the party, but the majority of the crowds considered that this was too early to afford adequate preparation. There promises to be the same excellent cooperation between the fraternities as there has been in the past, and there is, consequently, no reason why the affair should not be a ringing success.

PURPLE DEFEATS HAMILTON 27-7 IN FIRST GAME

Barbeson, Freshman Halfback, Intercepts Pass and Runs 70 Yards for Touchdown in Last Minute Play

BUFF AND BLUE OUTWEIGHED

Early Season Greeness Crops Out in Fumbles—Large Crowd of People See Game

In the first gridiron battle of the season last Saturday afternoon, Hamilton met defeat in Clinton at the hands of the powerful Williams eleven by the score of 27-7 and was saved from a zero score in the last minute of play by a 70-yard run for a touchdown. The Buff and Blue team was outweighed in almost every position, especially on the line. The field was perfect and more than 600 people saw the game. The sensational feature of the game was the 70-yard run for Hamilton's only touchdown by Barbeson, a freshman. Barbeson received an intercepted forward pass in the last minute of play and dashed down the field and across the line, while Springmann provided good interference. The last minute of play was the most thrilling of the whole game. Early season greeness was apparent at many times in Hamilton's fumbles.

Yates kicked off for Hamilton. Williams received the ball and began line plunging tactics almost immediately. They gained their first touchdown after five minutes of play, during which the Buff and Blue was driven over the line by sheer weight. Clement, Williams' fullback, scored the touchdown and also kicked the goal successfully. The period ended with the ball in Williams' possession. Williams 7, Hamilton 0.

Wiliiams Scores Again

In the second quarter Williams was penalized for holding, and forfeited five yards for an offside. Hamilton also received a penalty for holding. During this quarter the big Purple team scored their second touchdown after two unsuccessful attempts at passing. Howe kicked the goal. Williams, 14, Hamilton, 0.

Towne kicked off for Hamilton in the third quarter. Williams' pass was intercepted for a good gain. Hamilton was penalized five yards for offside. Beckwith, Williams halfback, ran the ball through for their third touchdown. Clement failed to kick the goal. The Buff and Blue now began to hold their Purple opponents, and time after time, blocked Williams' passes. But the fourth touchdown went over on a pass to right end. The play was completed by a pass to Bourne. The third quarter ended with the score Williams 27, Hamilton 0.

Hamilton Outplays Foe

In the fourth quarter, the Buff and Blue outplayed their heavier opponents and became the aggressors. Barbeson, Bookhout, Stackhouse, and Stanley made short runs, and G. Stanley and Keyports made good tackles. Stackhouse made a 25-yard run. Williams received the ball and again began making forward passes which were, however, mostly unsuccessful. In the last minute of play, Barbeson cleverly intercepted a forward pass and brought the stands to their feet by making a 70-yard run for a touchdown. The whistle blew while the play was in progress, but Towne kicked the goal, completing the play. The final score: Williams 27, Hamilton 7.

To the Class of 1928.

Life takes this opportunity to welcome the men of the class of 1928 to Hamilton. The class is the largest ever enrolled in the history of the college. Much is expected of each individual, for in new blood there is usually strength. Life for the freshman at Hamilton today holds none of the terrors and few of the hardships with which former freshmen have contended. However, there are even more opportunities for the freshman of today to prove himself here at Hamilton than formerly. The important thing is that the new man look after studies first and then go out hard and fast for some college activity and above all that he does not lose sight of his ideals.

A New Personality.

Beginning with this issue, Life is instituting an experiment in its Carpe Diem column. The column will be under the direction of one man who shall be known to the uninitiated world only as "Carpe", or more properly, "Carpe Diem." However, Carpe is anxious to have contributions from students for his column, whether the contributions be poetry, serious or otherwise, short humorous paragraphs or anything new and original. Such contributions should be mailed to Carpe Diem, Clinton, N. Y., or handed to the editor.

"The Turnip Patch."

Ever since the opening of college, members of the soccer team have been compelled to play on a field of stubble, which soccer men have more or less appropriately called a "turnip patch," located at no little distance from the campus. Not only is the field unlevel and most unsuitable for the playing of soccer, but it is in such an out of the way place that few spectators, if any, will take the trouble to attend a contest played there.

Part of the old soccer field behind Carnegie dormitory is being used by the construction company now erecting the new science building. In fact, until arrangements could be made to build a permanent field for the sport, it was dubious whether soccer could be continued at Hamilton. And the general feeling was that if soccer were discontinued for even so short a period as a year, it might not be revived.

Three solutions which soccer men have presented are: to play games on the practice football field, to make a temporary soccer field in the space between the first hole tee and the green, or to use the part of the old field that is available and to extend the plot over the old tennis courts. This latter plan would necessitate cutting down a few bushes of no great beauty or present purpose at the end of the old tennis court. Even a temporary field of this nature would be far more desirable and better than the make-shift field now being used.

The whole point is that there are about 40 men who are daily benefitting from the exercise and training that the sport gives. For a team which lost but two games all last season to be forced to play on such a poor field has the appearances of a raw deal.

If there is any real reason why one of the suggestions made by the players themselves cannot be carried out, there are more than 40 men who would be glad to know why. One thing is certain. Crowds which witnessed the soccer games in preceding years will not go over muddy roads to see a game on a "turnip patch." The situation should receive the immediate attention of the Executive Council or some other properly constituted authority.

Clean Up the Store!

For several days the vestibule leading into the College Store has been littered with waste paper and a general collection of junk of a heterogeneous nature. Moreover offensive odors permeate the entrance. Students can help the store clean up its vestibule by throwing refuse in proper receptacles and not littering the basement with it. Incidentally a new raised platform over the vestibule's mud floor would not be without its usefulness.

FRATERNITIES PLEDGE EIGHTY-TWO FRESHMEN

Rushing activities of the Hamilton fraternities are about finished. The freshman class numbers, 167, the largest and one of the finest classes ever matriculated on the Hill. Fraternities have pledged, up to now, 82 of these men. At present there are eight national and three local fraternities. Chi Beta Sigma has occupied the former Deke house, while Lambda Xi Sigma is just beyond the Chi Beta house in College street. The Theta Delts expect to enter their new house on the corner of the campus by Christmas, the Sigs are building an addition, and the Alpha Delts and D. U.'s are planning additions.

These men have been pledged:

Alpha Delta Phi: Frederick Allen, Jr., Hinsdale, Ill.; Joseph Holley, La Crose, Wis.; Henry L. Heyl, St. Louis, Mo.; Frederick B. Kessler, Binghamton; Frederick Ingals, Utica; Stuart Miller, Clinton; Dudley Moore, Fort Plain; Reed Rowley, Rochester; Winton Tolles, Mt. Vernon; Ernest Warren, Carthage.

Psi Upsilon: Burke I. Burke, Buffalo; Ernest Briggs, Buffalo; Sidney Bennett, Battle Creek; Seward Donaldson, Norwich; Edgar Higgins, New York; Reed Kinlock, Utica; Vincent Jones, Utica; Seymour Pitcher, Watertown; Harrison Allen, Glen Ridge.

Chi Psi: George Barlow, Binghamton; Edward Bower, Batavia; Frederick Ballard, Penn Yan; William E. Ferry, Brooklyn; J. Van Wagenen Estelow, Oxford; Frederick Gilbert, New York; Wilbur Merritt, Brooklyn; Joseph Durkee, Jacksonville, Fla.

Delta Kappa Epsilon: Robert Fisher, Rochester; Frank Pierce, Endicott; John Alison, II, Bridgeport; Edgar Hassard, New Rochelle; Robert Brockway, Jr., Summit, N. J.; Joseph Barbeson, Binghamton; George Jacobson, Glen Ridge; Bruce Tatlock, Rochester; Charles Staubach, Glen Ridge; John Redmond, New York.

Theta Delta Chi: James Harper, Delhi; Richard Rathbun, Phelps; Gilbert Cooper, Riverhead, L. I.; Charles MacLean, Batavia; Charles Ormsby, Waterford; Edison Pierce, East Aurora; Donald Brasted, Hornell.

E. L. S.: Edwin Clark, Peekskill; Frederick Leich, Jr., Dayton, O.; Lester Fanning, Southampton; R. Lester Searles, Auburn; John Morris, Utica; Robert Walker, Warren, O.

Chi Beta Sigma: Laurence McKee, Greene; Harry Watson, Poughkeepsie; Howard Kessler, Rome; Clinton E. Stook, Rome.

Lambda Xi Sigma: Paul Hays, Oswego; Lindsay Grandison, Buffalo; Claude Clarke, Altmar.

A Note from You

A tiny note from you, my Girl,
Though all the world be weary,
Though cold winds blow and heavens weep,
Makes all my heart be cheery;
It lets me see a ray of sun,
Though heavy clouds hang o'er me;
It makes me hope some joy and love
Perhaps is waiting for me.

Carpe Diem

Well, well, here we all are again, even the aesthetic Charles Brainard in our midst. Carpe has had over a week to rub off the rust that has accumulated on his none-too-trusty typewriter, and is ready to prick the Trustees, Faculty (including Gigi), Student Body and even Gil Sessions with equal avidity.

But there is bad news for those who eagerly await the drippings from Carpe's humorous muse. Listen now to what Carpe's tragic muse insists on saying: "Ye men of Hamilton, from now on Carpe will be represented by serious utterings from me as well as mirth from my fellow muse, Monsieur Royal Gaboon."

To be brief (as Cal Lewis never said), Carpe has joined the ranks of Heywood Broun, F. P. A., etc., as a COLUMNIST, and is hoping to have his duties lessened by numerous contributions from the literary gentlemen attending Ham. Coll., both serious and humorous. Therefore sign on the dotted line and send in contributions to Carpe Diem, Clinton, N. Y.

The first contribution of a literary nature that Carpe will present is a poem without a title, but the subject matter of which will be easily recognized by all Hamiltonians. Carpe thanks "B. F. S." and hopes to be able to include his initials often during the year at the end of various contributions.

Twelve bells and three! Twelve bells and three!
Skip to the chapel, now right merrily.
Off to a class you go, while the bells toll.
When the last bell has rung, answer the roll.
Twelve bells and three! Twelve bells and three!
Twelve bells and three! Twelve bells and three!
Calling to church with a cold irony.
One, two ,three, four, and five, leaving but seven.
Hurry, your souls will be shut out of heaven!
Twelve bells and three! Twelve bells and three!

Jay Kay has left an interesting sketch on Carpe's desk. He believes that every Junior will appreciate this penetrating discussion of their feelings on returning to college.

The Return of the Old Stewed

There is an indescribable sensation for the old, old stewed (Junior) in returning to what freshmen themes call this seat of learning. (Make your own joke on this). Sensation, we say; don't say "kick." (see section 5, b, administrative rules. This is a game called hike and seek. You hide it, and the faculty seeks it.) Not that this sensation lasts long, but that it burns intensely.

From New Hartford out, he looks for the chapel spire, and can't see it, but decides that it must be there just the same; he shoulders his way off the car at Clinton ahead of the underclassmen with a rolling, easy, affluent feeling, surveys the combined Clinton taxi fleet, and picks out one of those ships that won't sink in the sea of finance.

College street and memories, rising with every whirring foot, of the times when he has walked it, as Mr. R. Lardner says, at 2 in the A. M. when the bank acct. consisted of a rushin' ruble—usually in the other direction. And all the while keeping up one of those languid conversations with the driver who states it as his opinion, and nobody else's, that it is going to be a hard winter.

"But Snice now."

"Shure is. Snice day."

And, says the driver, most of the boys are back, including "Who? Yes, he's here" when as a matter fact Who is still up at his summer home on Mr. Hudson's Bay.

Around the first turn and past the Arbor. Nice place to sleep, the Arbor, but the benches are a little narrow, and cold after twelve when the night wind comes up—well, well! Prex' house a nice green; probably getting ready for freshman reception. "That," contemplates the o. s. with some satisfaction, "would make an olive turn green."

Past the Psi U house with more mental laughter at the first time he saw it and wondered if it were the college barn. And so on to the top. Great business, this getting back to College. Junior year. Authority. Canes. And corduroy pants.

Jay Kay.

Carpe enjoys a remark he overheard Al Fulton making the other day: "This Freshman Class is too collegiately dressed to be going to college." We intend to send this paradox on to Gilbert Chesterton.

Here's to a Big Year at Hamilton

It looks like a big year—a big registration an earnest, enthusiastic student body; splendid equipment, a faculty second to none; a great team, a fine bunch of freshmen. It ought to be a great year.

If father did the washing just once!

If every father did the family washing next Monday there would be an electric washing machine in every home before next Saturday night.

For fathers are used to figuring costs. They'd say: "The electricity for a week's washing costs less than a cake of soap. Human time and strength are too precious for work which a machine can do so cheaply and well."

You will live in a new age—an electrical age. Heavy tasks will be shifted from human shoulders to electric motors. Remember the letters "G-E". They are a symbol of service—the initials of a friend.

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

"SUCCESS COMES FROM INNER NATURE"—ROOT

Valedictorian of Class of '64 Makes Annual Address and Urges Students to Learn Joy of Living

WORLD DOING BETTER
Wealth and Power are By-products of a Developed Manhood

"You will find that success in life comes from what you have made of your inner nature," Senator Elihu Root, valedictorian of the Class of 1864 and chairman of the board of trustees of the college, said when he made his annual address before students in the Chapel Saturday, Sept. 20. "One must succeed within himself. Cultivate your tastes so that you will receive joy from things of beauty; cultivate your powers so that you will receive joy from the exercise of them; cultivate friendships so that your hearts may always be warmed by human sympathy; cultivate the virtues that all men admire so that you may be conscious of self respect."

"The Trustees, President, and Faculty, and the student body ought to work together toward the greatest efficiency and honor and prosperity and success of the institution to which we are giving considerable parts of our lives. I suppose that one of the things that we all have in mind is that you members of the student body shall get on in life. I suppose each one of you wants to get on. Each one of you ought to; I am sorry for you if you don't.

"I think probably every one of you will find times when you are here when it seems as if the work which you are engaged in, the Latin, work in science, all the various items of the curriculum which you have begun to take, is flat, stale and unprofitable. It will seem to you as if you were wasting your time; it will seem to you as if it were not worth while for you to toil and moil over some parts of the curriculum that come to your hand to do. Well, how is that to be determined? You can't determine it; you have not the elements of judgment. Otherwise it would not be worth while for you to be here. Mistakes may be made, doubtless. Nevertheless the things that are prescribed for you to do here are each one of them an element in a general scheme that has been thought out and tried out for centuries over and over again under all sorts of circumstances by all sorts of men, the object of which is to train human mind and character to the greatest possible competency.

"You are engaged in a process, a process which has to proceed step by step as painting does stroke by stroke of the brush. The process is making men and the duty of each one of you here is to make a man. Yourself is the raw material of manhood. You cannot tell what your material will stand but whatever it is fit for, this process, dull and hard and disagreeable at times, apparently pointless at times, whatever your material will make it possible for you to be, this process is going to bring out.

"The world is doing vastly more than it ever did before, not because men are bigger than they ever were before but because men have learned to base the present and future upon the present, and the present upon the past, because by the preservation of records, by the perpetuation of example, by the processes of study of the past, man begins life from a platform built for him in the past. The present grows from the past and we are higher up than the man in Greek and Roman days, because we have the advantage of Greek and Roman days for our training and enlargement of vision.

"Two forces are always working in the world. The force of conservation and the force of progress. They both have to exist. It is the natural business of the old to be conservative. That is because they are interested in the past and are of the past. It is the business of the young to be progressive. You must have change. But the spirit of youth may bring about change that is not progress. Progress must be built upon the past of the human race. That is the theory of the college course, that the experience of the race shall be brought to bear in the disciplining and training of the man who studies in the college. Now the business of making a man, in which you are engaged, should lead you to rejoice if you find that your intellectual and moral powers are growing.

"There is very great misunderstanding about what constitutes successful advancement in life. It is not to become rich. That does not help much. Money enough to be independent. Yes, to be independent is a fine thing and not to be is appalling and distressing.

"We have had a very great change in the condition of labor in the world in recent years. The laborers in many countries, particularly in England and

HAMILTON PROFESSOR MADE ADVISOR AT SYRACUSE UNIV.

Dr. Frederick M. Davenport, professor of law and civil polity at Hamilton College, was appointed last June as advisory counsel for the School of Citizenship and Public Affairs which started this fall at Syracuse University. This school will be the broadest, most practical, and most concrete et, most practical, and most concrete institution of its kind in the United States. The anonymous donor who endowed the School conferred a supreme honor on Senator Davenport in selecting him as advisor.

Professors William E. Mosher, R. M. Story, and Floyd H. Allport, who lead the faculty of the Citizenship School were selected by Dr. Davenport. His duties with the School at Syracuse will not make heavy demands on his time, being very similar to those of legal counsel for a business corporation. From the undergraduates of the University, 600 freshmen and 600 students from the other classes have enrolled for courses in this new political school.

HAROLD C. THOMAS, PH.D., '09, FILLS DR. WOOD'S PLACE

Harison C. Thomas, Ph.D., Hamilton, '09, is filling the place of Dr. F. H. Wood in the Political Science department. Dr. Wood was granted his sabbatical year of absence last spring and is at presnt touring in Europe. Professor Thomas is very well qualified for his work, as he has taught for ten years in New York City high schools. He completed his graduate work at Columbia and received his degree there in 1919.

He plans to make his courses practically the same as those of Dr. Wood were. Political Science 1-2 will include a study of American government followed by a study of the general principles of government, while 3-4 will cover the general principles of government and will be followed by the principles of European government. There will be a considerable amount of supplementary reading as in former years.

COLLEGE ADOPTS HALF-HOUR DAYLIGHT SAVING POLICY

All college classes were advanced a half hour yesterday morning and will continue to run on a semi-daylight saving plan until after the football season. The policy is usually adopted at this time of year to give the football men more daylight practice. Breakfast is served in Commons at 7 o'clock, lunch at 12, and dinner at 6:30, as formerly.

FIFTY-TWO MAKE CHOIR

On Monday night, Sept. 22nd, Professor Fancher held try-outs for men to fill the vacancies in the choir. The successful singers were: DeLaFleur, '26; Belden, Bloore, Hallock and Sayres, '27; and Barbeson, Donaldson, Clark, Brockway, Waters, Cooley, Hiler, Higgins, Miller, Heyl, H. K. Bennett, Duell, Kessler, Donnelly, Staubach, Estelow, MacPhail, Jewel, and MacLean, '27. With the choice of these new men, the choir now totals 52 men, the largest it has been in the history of the college.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS TRY-OUTS

Tryouts for the Glee Club and quartet for upperclassmen were held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. As this issue goes to press the successful competitors have not yet been announced. A temporary quartet was picked to fulfill the engagement at the University Club in Utica next Saturday evening.

the United States, have come to have higher wages and shorter hours of work than they have ever had before. That is, they have had more money to spend and more leisure to spend it in. I doubt if they have ever been more discontented. The immediate effect of higher wages and shorter hours of work have been discontented workmen. Why? Because it is not in them, they have not trained and developed in them the capacity for the enjoyment of life.

"If you are dependent on outside material things for your happiness, you are weak, you must always lean on someone else. If you have tastes, if you have joy in the exercise of intellectual power, if you have fondness for literature, if you are able to think, then you are in control of your own happiness, then you will make the only success in life that is real. Let me say one thing in conclusion. The success that is emblazoned in the press, the triumphs of life, do not come from direct approach. You do not win power and wealth and fame by frontal assault. They come as the by-products of manhood and you build up the manhood to conquer them. Godspeed you in that work here."
